

The Medical HERO

Nobody knew this was coming,
But you were all ready and willing.
When it came, it struck real hard,
And you are still fighting the enemy (COVID – 19), without an applaud.

Everybody opted their homes to be safe,
But you opted the hospital
instead, as your place.
Patient suffering and dying
in front of your eyes, But your commitment and courage is all that can suffice.

Every nook and corner in a lockdown,
But you're still on duty with your gown.
People are in fear and panic,
But you are strong and bold facing this Pandemic.

Economy crumbling and affected people increasing rapidly, But you “the Frontliner”, shielding and fighting l ike a warrior fearlessly. God says, “the hair on your head are all numbered. Fear not, therefore, you are more valuable than a sparrow,

We SALUTE and are PROUD of you our HERO.
